SINGLE MALT WHISKEY — ISLAY

30ML

The Scottish Island of Islay (pronounced eye-luh) is located west of the mainland & the is the smallest Whiskey region in terms of area coverage in Scotland. Even though it's a relatively small island, Islay is currently home to 8 distilleries. The region is known for it's peaty single malts which are traditionally held to be amongst the heaviest & most pungent available.

SINGLE MALT WHISKEY — LOWLAND

30ML

Lowlands is the second biggest whiskey region in terms of its area. These malts tend to be unpeated & lighter in nature, with a gentle, elegant, palate, reminiscent of sweetness, which makes them easy to drink.

Glenkinchie 12 Year Old	Lowland	25

SINGLE MALT WHISKEY — SPEYSIDE

30ML

The region of Speyside is located in the Northeast of Scotland surrounding the River Spey. The whiskey's in this area are usually lighter & sweeter than other Scotch single malts. They are noted for their elegance & complexity, sometimes with a refined smokiness but more often a fruitiness ranging from ripe pears to sultanas.

SINGLE MALT WHISKEY — CAMPBELTOWN

30ML

Campbeltown once home to over 30 distilleries, only 3 distilleries currently remain. Campbeltown's coastal location helps to shape its whiskies' characteristics & the malts produced here are fiercely enduring & distinctive. You can detect notes of sea salt on the nose & a briny taste on the palate, while smoke, fruit, vanilla & toffee flavours are also embraced in the various malts of Campbeltown.

Hazelburn 8 Year Old	Campbeltown	24
Springbank 12 Year Old	Campbeltown	22

SINGLE MALT WHISKEY — HIGHLAND

30ML

Highland is the largest geographical whiskey producing area. This offers vastly different flavours. The region is divided by East, West, South & North.

SINGLE MALT WHISKEY — ISLANDS

Scotch produced on the islands surrounding the mainland of Scotland offers a very diverse & different taste; they're not however, recognised by the Scotch Whiskey Association (considered to be part of Highland) but are easily grouped for geographic reasons as one as they're all islands. Although diverse in flavours, peat & salinity are found in all Island whiskies; the latter is because of the sea's vicinity.
